BUSHMAN IS ELECTED BY VET FIREMEN

Rufus H. Bushman, N. Stratton St., who joined the Gettysburg Fire Department on December 13, 1911, and who served as president of the department in 1924, Tuesday evening was elected president of the Veteran Firemen's Association at its 24th annual dinner meeting held in the American Legion home, Baltimore St.

He succeeds Charles W. Culp Jr., who has been a fireman since June 11, 1911.

Named as vice president, a post filled by Bushman last year, was Eugene Shriver, who became a member of the fire company on December 11, 1912.

WEAVER EMCEES
Donald Staub was elected secretary-treasurer to succeed David A. Tawney, who had served in that post for 11 years and asked to be relieved. Charles Bollinger was named as chaplain.

William G. Weaver, past fire department president and chief, following a custom of many years, served as master of ceremonies and presiding officer. A moment of silence was observed in memory of Cyril J. Staub, only member of the veteran firemen's group to die during the last year.

Weaver told the group: "Not only was he one of the most active firemen, continuing active even after being placed on the retired list, but he also gave three good sons to the fire department."

Introduced as new members of the veterans' group were Donald Folkenroth, Sebastian Hafer, Howard Hankey, Glenn Harner, Robert Hartman, Charles Kerrigan and Robert Toomey.

Judge W. C. Sheely was the speaker.

RESERVOIR OF EXPERIENCE

Noting "there is a vast reservoir of unused wisdom and experience in this country," Judge Sheely said: "This reservoir of experience should be called on, plus the vigor of youth to provide us all with even greater progress." He said it is "unfortunate" that "for political reasons" the experience and wisdom of past presidents and past governors and other high officials is not more frequently called upon to help solve national and state problems. Retirement policies of large universities are providing an opportunity for smaller colleges to improve the quality of their faculties "for many of the top educators who are compelled to retire because of age are now being called upon to teach at the smaller colleges and thus their experience and wisdom is not lost."

Toastmaster Weaver, in commenting on Judge Sheely's remarks, said: "Civil Defense has done something to take advantage of experience among firemen at least. In event of emergency, when the younger men are called away, you veteran firemen would be called upon under CD to take over your old duties as firemen for the community."

A vote of thanks was given the committee in charge of the dinner: Charles W. Culp Jr., chairman, C. William Zhea, David Tawney, William G. Weaver, Ivan Breighner, Alvin Bupp and Donald Staub.

Woman Is Injured When Car Skids

Phyllis M. Larose, 30, York Springs, struck the rear of a 1956 car driven by Fred H. Neff, 24, New Oxford R. 2, Tuesday morning when attempting to halt her 1953 auto at the intersection of N. Washington St. and W. Lincoln Ave., according to a borough police report.

The report said Neff had been traveling north and halted at the stop sign when Mrs. Larose approached from the rear and lost control of her vehicle when it slid on the ice. She suffered head and knee bruises. Damage was estimated at $400 to her car and $350 to the Neff auto. No charges were filed.

At the business session, five positions on the board of directors will be filled. They include the positions resigned by Miss Anne Faber and Mrs. Ira Henderson and positions of three directors whose terms expire this year. They are Dr. John D. Anderson, Donald B. Hudson and H. Thomas Pyle.

The elections will take place after the report of the nominating committee is presented. The committee includes Mrs. Raymond M. Hale, Mrs. Richard Schubert and Mrs. Francis Yake.

PLAN MOVE IN SMITH APPEAL

Defense attorneys plan to submit, probably next Monday, arguments for a new trial for Elmo Smith, the 39-year-old Bridgeport handyman who was convicted and sentenced to death in the slaying of 16-year-old Maryann Mitchell.

The defense attorneys, Gilbert P. High and Joseph P. Phelps Jr., said their argument is still in the formative stage.

They reportedly will ask President Judge W. C. Sheely to set aside the sentence and grant a new trial on grounds that the jury of nine men and three women abused its discretion by sentencing Smith to die in the electric chair.

The trial was held here on a change of venue from Montgomery County which was granted by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. The trial ended last September. The Philadelphia school girl was found beaten to death December 30, 1959.

The jury first convicted Smith, then heard additional evidence to fix the penalty, which is required under a new Pennsylvania law.

ARENDTSTVILLE TO USE "QUICK CALL" SYSTEM

Arendtville residents will use the county's Quick Call system to summon their firemen after dial phones are installed in their area, according to a vote by the Arendtville firemen at their meeting Tuesday night.

At present persons wishing the services of the firemen in the upper Adams community call the telephone operator at Biglerville who in turn summons Arendtville firemen. When the dial system is installed, probably in April, residents will dial ED 4-1313 which will connect them with the Quick Call operator in the fire house here.

The Quick Call operator will then sound the Arendtville fire siren by radio and notify the Arendtville firemen by phone and radio of the location of the blaze or other emergency. The Quick Call service is now used by Gettysburg, Bonneauville, Barlow, Cashtown and Greenmount.

New officers of the Arendtville firemen were installed at the meeting Tuesday evening in the fire hall. They were Glenn A. Bream, president; Sterling Sell, vice president; Carl A. Carey, secretary; Paul Hartman, treasurer; Ira Cutshall, financial secretary; Harry McDannell, trustee; Elliott Schlosser, chief, and Clyde Sell, assistant chief.

Harry McDannell was named Arendtville's representative on the county Quick Call committee which has responsibility for operation of the Quick Call system.

Preservation Of Peace For 8 Years Labelled By Ike As 'Greatest Achievement'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he considers the greatest achievement of his eight years in office was the preservation of peace in an era when weakness would almost certainly have brought disastrous war.

Eisenhower gave this appraisal in his last presidential news conference, attended by 280 reporters who crowded into the ornate Indian Treaty Room of the old State Department Building.

The 70-year-old soldier-president dealt quickly, smilingly and emphatically with questions concerned with foreign and domestic problems. He spoke most feelingly when asked what he considered his most satisfying achievement and most heart-breaking failure.

REVIEWS YEARS

His great disappointment, Eisenhower said, was that the nation could not be brought to the place where it could be said that

EXTRA FUNDS FOR FIELD IN NPS BUDGET

Preliminary plans for establishment of a "walking tour" as part of the new visitor center on the Battlefield and for placing additional "field interpretive exhibits" in the park were announced today in connection with the presentation by President Eisenhower of the National Park Service budget to Congress.

If Congress approves the items scheduled for the Gettysburg National Park a number of additional outdoor exhibits will be added to offer tourists with a better understanding of events here. The budget submitted to Congress calls for $23,800 for the "field interpretive exhibits."

DESCRIBES PLANS

Park Superintendent James B. Myers said these are the plans if Congress approves the expenditure: A "walking tour" path will lead from the new visitors' center when it is opened next summer to Meade's headquarters. There an audio visual device will be installed by which visitors will be able to hear, by pushing a button, a recorded three-minute talk on the events in the headquarters area. The system will be "somewhat similar to that used at Jamestown," Superintendent Myers said.

From Meade's headquarters, the path will lead to near the Meade equestrian statue where an artillery exhibit will be established to explain artillery used in the battle. The path will go south of the High Water Mark, looping around the "clump of trees," and then go north to the west of the wall at the Angle. The walkway will give the visitor an opportunity to see the rise of ground to the wall as Pickett's troops saw it when they came to that point in their charge. The walk will continue north past the Brian house and then pass through Zeigler's Grove to the parking lot near there.

SUM FOR LAND

Additional exhibits will be placed at other portions of the field—some of them maps in aluminum frames similar to the displays already in place at a number of sites on the Battlefield.

A sum of $1,400 is included in the proposed budget for roads and trails. Superintendent Myers said that sum will take care of normal maintenance of the roads, snow removal, cutting grass along the shoulders, etc.

The National Park Service proposed budget contains $500,000 "for acquisition of lands in the Civil War areas." Myers said he has no information so far as to whether any of that amount is allocated for purchase of land here.

AMVET WOMEN WILL PARADE

The Auxiliary of the Charles J. Gilland Amvets Post, Fairfield, voted Tuesday evening at their meeting in the post home to make uniforms and join the Honor Guard of the Amvets post in parade participation.

A donation of $24 for the State Hospital fund was approved.

President Faye Baker announced she, Katharine Kint and Alice Bushman will represent the auxiliary at the next state executive committee meeting to be held at the Penn-Harris Hotel, Harrisburg, February 11 and 12. Members wishing to accompany the trio to Harrisburg are asked to contact any of the three officers. Preliminary plans were outlined for a food sale to be held in March. COUNTY PLANS "OPEN HOUSE" AT NEW HOME

Preliminary plans for an "open house" in connection with completion of the new county home along the Biglerville Rd. were reported today by the county commissioners at their meeting in the court house.

The advisory committee of the Adams County Home has been assigned the task of planning for the public visitation. The commissioners said the date on which countians will be able to see their new home for the aged will be set later.

H. Wayne Cluck, clerk of the works for the home construction, reported today to the commissioners that the work is nearing completion. Delay in arrival of baseboard heating has caused some delay, Cluck said. The baseboard is expected this week, Cluck said, and should be installed in two weeks.

MUCH WORK DONE

"Three weeks after the heating is installed the building will be ready for drapes, curtains, folding doors and furniture," Cluck said.

The terrazzo flooring has been installed, all ceramic tile work in the 26 regular bathrooms, four large bathrooms, two locker rooms, the morgue, kitchen, dishwashing room, four storage and utility rooms and in back of the two drinking fountains has been completed.

Ninety per cent of the electricity and plumbing has been completed. Walnut paneling at the back of the chapel section has been cut and needs only to have its edges beveled and sanded and staining to be completed.

The light system by which guests in various rooms can summon the nurse from the nurses station is near completion.

PLAN JOINT INSTITUTE FOR TEACHERS

Gettysburg and Adams County teachers will unite, for the first time in a number of years, for their 1961 institute, it was decided Tuesday at a meeting of school administrators in the office of the county superintendent of schools, Carlisle St.

Gettysburg will be host to the institute to be held next October 9 and 10.

Decision to bring the county and borough schools together for institute sessions also led to decision to hold the two days of institute together. In some prior years one day of institute was held, then the other was held at a later date. Last fall the Gettysburg teachers joined with York for their institute and the Adams County school teachers joined with Cumberland County for their institute.

Named as the committee to arrange the program for the October sessions were Donald B. Hudson, superintendent of the Upper Adams schools; George F. Inskip, Fairfield supervising principal; Frank E. Ike Is Trim, Smiling For Last Meeting With Newsmen

By RELMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower smiled, waved, raised his arms in the double-V for victory gesture, and disappeared through the door.

It was his last news conference as President of the United States.

And it was one of his best, a moving, meaningful final appearance before one of the biggest galleries of correspondents in all the eight years they have been gathering to question him.

In his physical appearance he looked trim, ruddy, radiantly healthy.

WITTY, SERIOUS

In manner he was resolute, concise, authoritative. Only once or twice did he pause to reach for a word.

In mood he ranged from sly, dry wit to the deepest seriousness. His mobile face reflected a broad spectrum of feelings.

Never, through all the long years, did he look more like the President.

He said, at the outset, that he had no "earth shaking" news. He had come to the high-vaulted conference room to say goodbye.

REMINISCENT FLAVOR

Then he said one man in the room had attended every conference, at home and abroad, in the eight years and had been of "invaluable" assistance. He asked Jack Romagna, the official transcriber, to stand up. (Romagna was the shorthand stenographer for Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, as well.)

The mood of the conference, naturally, was strongly tinged with reminiscence. The correspondents led him back to his first news conference. They asked him, in effect, what he thought of them, now that it was all over, and whether he thought reporters had been fair to him.

FUN FADES

The sly, almost elfin expression came into his eyes when he said, "I don't see what the reporters could do to a president."

He looked a little bit like an entertainer, delivering lines that were sure to get laughs. They did. But when he talked about the cold war, what he called the "intransigence" of the Russians, and the problems of government, the fun faded from his expression. He became grave, emphatic.

BULLETINS

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—A board of inquiry convened behind closed doors today, seeking to find out why a radar tower off the New Jersey coast was smashed into the sea Sunday—taking the lives of 28 men who were to have been rescued within hours.

The Air Force ordered safety tests of two other towers, both off the New England coast.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—One of the Laotian air force's four newly delivered U.S. planes was shot down Tuesday north of the Vang Vieng front, a government source said today.

Laotian pilots have been flying the trainer planes after arming them with rockets and machine guns.

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy ducked away from the pre-inaugural hubbub in Washington for a round of Manhattan conferences today—and a session with his tailor.

Kennedy arranged a late morning meeting with Puerto Rico's Governor Luis Munoz Marin. He may confer during the afternoon with Hugh Gaiskill, leader of Britain's Labor party. Aides indicated he will receive other callers at his Carlyle Hotel suite.

CARDINAL HITS TASK FORCE'S SCHOOL PLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman says some of the educational recommendations made to President-elect John F. Kennedy by a task force are unfair to parochial and private school pupils.

Kennedy, who arrived here Tuesday night for a brief visit, said he had no comment on Spellman's remarks.

Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, discussed the recent task force report in a prepared statement he read at a final report meeting of the cardinal's educational campaign.

PROPOSALS "UNFAIR"

The task force report, he said, proposed a $9.3-billion program of federal aid to education, with $5.8 billion allotted to public elementary and high schools.

The cardinal said: "No Catholic schools or schools of other religious denominations are included in the task force proposal. For many millions of American parents, this means that they will be taxed more than ever before for the education of their children but that they cannot expect any return from their taxes, unless they are willing to transfer their children to a public grade or high school."

"I believe and I state that these recommendations are unfair to most parents of the nation's 6.8 million parochial and private school children. Such private school children."

Brownie Troop 71 met Monday evening at the St. James Lutheran Church and Miss Barbara Hockensmith showed pictures of the presidents and gave a brief talk on them. The patrols met separately and decided on names. They are as follows: G.R.'s, Woodcrests and the Lilies. The Girl Scout promise and laws are to be learned by the next meeting as a part of the tenderfoot training. The cookie order blanks were distributed to each girl. Leaders in charge were Mrs. Leo Kuhn Jr. and Mrs. Marlin Bergdale.

At the Tuesday evening meeting of Senior Girl Scout Troop 42 in the Girl Scout office, Mrs. J. B. Collins gave the Scouts materials for the Girl Scout cookie sale which begins today. Mrs. Ralph Bream and Mrs. Robert Loose, leaders, were in charge. Ten girls were present.

Scouts Going To Trap Rabbits

A McSherrystown community service project, "Operation Rabbit Trap," has been launched by Boy Scout Troop 107, Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrystown, in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Game Commission and will continue through February 10.

Edward Fuhrman, deputy game protector, said the project will benefit hunters next year and property owners by lessening damage to shrubs, evergreens and gardens by rabbits.

Each Scout participating in the project must obtain a permit from the game commission, which will furnish the necessary traps to be set by the Scouts in their immediate neighborhood.

All rabbits caught will be turned over to the game commission and the Boy Scout troop will be reimbursed by the commission for each rabbit trapped.

CARLISLE — The tuition at Dickinson College will go up $100 on January 30 with the start of the spring semester and another $100 next September when the fall term starts. The second increase will raise the tuition charge at Dickinson for a year to $1,150.

The college's board of trustees authorized the increases in an action taken last June. They are made necessary by mounting costs of virtually all operations, including faculty salaries, said Dr. Gilbert Malcolm, Dickinson president.

TALKS TO PTA

great disappointment.

Apart from this rueful comment, and despite the many prodding questions, Eisenhower declined to give his version of what went wrong in the presidential election which cost the Republican party control of the White House.

But his comments were not completely free from political implications as he gave these replies to the cross-fire of questions:

THE FUTURE — The greatest problem facing President-elect John F. Kennedy when he takes office Friday will be that of dealing with the intransigent and unreasonable attitude of the Communist powers.

The basic difficulty will be in keeping this country strong and firm, and yet conciliatory, in trying to meet the Soviet attitude, Eisenhower said.

BLAMES REDS — In this connection, Eisenhower twice blamed the world's troubles on the Soviet Union and he singled out a statement by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, published Tuesday, for specific condemnation.

In the statement Khrushchev predicted the early triumph of communism over the world and declared that "wars of liberation" have the blessing of the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower, talking about the crisis in Laos, said that what causes the trouble is the activity of the Communist bloc and its ideas as expressed Tuesday by Khrushchev. The Soviet leader, Eisenhower said, showed that he would exacerbate and support what he called wars of liberation.

ECONOMIC POLICY — The President slapped at the proposal of Kennedy's economic task force that federal spending be boosted by $3 billion to $5 billion to combat recession and unemployment.

Eisenhower said he is no economic prophet, but he believes the economy will be swinging upward gradually but steadily, and will provide more government revenues than it is now generating.

Public works and other spending programs generally don't take effect until 18 months after they are started—by which time the boom usually has begun again, Eisenhower said. But the billions of dollars spent, seem to stay forever in the public debt, he added.

TRANSITION—Eisenhower said he definitely believes there should be changes in the constitutional provisions for election and inauguration, although not necessarily the shorter transition period which many have advocated.

The new president should have at least 90 days in office before presenting to Congress his own budget, economic report and legislative program, Eisenhower said. He said he was not ready now to make specific recommendations, but would have more to say about this subject later.

Now the outgoing president presents the program of the outgoing administration to Congress, and the incoming president faces a period in which he has responsibility without having had opportunity to prepare and lay down a program, Eisenhower said.

The news conference was the 193rd held by Eisenhower, in Washington; Gettysburg, Pa.; Augusta, Ga., and elsewhere. The last one in Washington was on Sept. 7, although he met reporters in Augusta on Nov. 16 to announce government moves to curb the balance-of-payments deficit.

The President looked hale and fresh. He smiled frequently, but occasionally gave tart answers to questions which might have been answered sentimentally if he had chosen to do so.

He dealt almost brusquely with a question as to whether he felt his own participation in the presidential campaign had been vigorous enough and had started early enough, and whether he felt the "great debates" damaged the cause of the Republican nominee, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Eisenhower said his advice was not asked on the debates, and that as for his own campaign efforts, he carried out the exact schedule asked of him by the campaign committee.

Eisenhower said he would be pleased if congressional efforts were successful to restore to him the rank of five-star general which he resigned when he became president.

This would be merely a title without extra pay in addition to his presidential pension, Eisenhower said, but it would give him a title of his own and would be satisfying in view of his 40 years of military service.

Eisenhower chuckled when queried whether he had arrived at a final decision on whether he approves of the Constitutional Amendment limiting a president to two terms in office.

It's a funny thing, he observed, that ever since the election Republicans have been asking him the same question.

He said he had been inclined to dislike the third-term prohibition at first, but recognizes that without it the danger always would exist of perpetuating a dynasty in the White House. On balance, he said, he now believes that the limitation is a pretty good thing.

NIXON PACKS BAGS AFTER MUCH PRAISE

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon packed today for his departure from Washington with the assurances of GOP colleagues that future national service awaits him.

Nixon was said by aides to be undecided yet on which of several offers he will accept from law firms in California.

The Nixon home in a fashionable Washington residential district is up for sale. Whether his two daughters will remain in school here until June hasn't been decided.

LIKELY CONTENDER

Several of his Republican senatorial colleagues told Nixon Tuesday that though he may be leaving office Friday because of his narrow defeat in the presidential race, they expect him to be back in harness again.

Nixon is regarded as one of the likely contenders for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination. He has indicated he does not plan to run in 1962 for any California office.

Nixon touched off a 75-minute series of tributes—including some from Democrats—when he said goodbye to the Senate Tuesday.

MORNING HOUR

The vice president left behind a gift of two three-minute glass sand timers. He said subsequent presiding officers could juggle them to enforce the three-minute rule on speakers in what the Senate knows as its "morning hour."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois praised Nixon as "one of the most distinguished vice presidents of this country."

Nixon sat quietly, twisting a ball of paper in his hand as others joined in tributes.

SEEK TO END HARBOR STRIKE

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold A. Felix, New York City labor commissioner, took emergency action today to settle the harbor craft strike that has caused a vast railroad commuter tieup and halted service on the New York Central's main line between here and Albany.

Felix sought to set up a top-level meeting of both sides in the strike, Mayor Robert F. Wagner and representatives of the National Mediation Board.

Picketing by striking railroad harbor craft crewmen led to cancellation of service for the New York Central's 40,000 commuters in the metropolitan area Tuesday.

OTHER MEANS

Thousands of long-distance passengers were forced to use buses between New York City and Albany because of the stoppage of Central trains into and out of Grand Central Terminal.

The nine-day-old strike of 664 marine crewmen against 11 railroads operating in the harbor has hit hardest at 70,000 commuters.

In addition to the 40,000 New York Central commuters who felt the impact Tuesday, 30,000 commuters between New Jersey points and Manhattan have borne the brunt of the strike.

School Doesn't Doubt Loyalty

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Chancellor Edward H. Litchfield of the University of Pittsburgh says the school has no reason to doubt the loyalty of a history professor named by a Democratic state legislator as having been associated with pro-Communist and pro-Castro organizations.

Rep. John T. Walsh of McKeesport said in the House at Harrisburg Tuesday that Dr. Robert G. Colodny fought for the Communists in the Spanish Civil War and is a member of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, which the attorney general lists as an Un-American group.

Walsh also said Colodny was one of 30 signers of the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee," described by the lawmaker as "an openly pro-Communist organization."

FIGHT LAW CHANGE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislative action giving quick committee approval of a bill to liberalize a liquor law has drawn fire from the Pennsylvania Council of Churches.

The Senate's temporary committee on legislation Tuesday reported to the floor for action by the full Senate a proposal reducing the number of signatures needed on petitions asking for referendum in Philadelphia or Pittsburgh on the question of Sunday liquor sales.

WERE CHECK FORGERS

Smitley said the four men allegedly were involved in check-forging and that Brownfield had threatened to expose them.

Brownfield, listed in good condition at Uniontown Hospital, said the men picked him up at his home Friday night.

He said they beat him in a car and branded him with a cigarette lighter. They then took him to a home and beat him again and burned him with hot coals, Brownfield said.

Fire Auxiliary
Meets Tuesday

New officers of the Auxiliary of the Bonneville Fire Company took up their duties at the January meeting of the auxiliary Tuesday evening at the fire hall. The meeting was opened by the retiring president, Mrs. Mary Orndorff, who thanked officers and members for their support during the last year and read a note of thanks from the fire company for the help of the auxiliary and for the $500 check that organization sent to the firemen.

Then she turned the presidency over to Mrs. Romaine Long, the new president. These are the other officers for the year: Vice president, Mrs. Mildred Neiderer; secretary, Miss Irene Gebhart; and treasurer, Mrs. James Walter.

Mrs. Long appointed committees to help with the firemen's parties each Friday evening and for the card parties held by the auxiliary on the second Sunday of each month at the fire hall. A member also was named to send flowers to hospitalized members and to report meetings to the newspapers.

A social was held honoring members whose wedding anniversaries fall in January. Those honored were Mrs. Mary Orndorff and Mrs. Helen Weishaar. After the meeting, refreshments were served by Miss Gebhart, Mrs. June Walter and Mrs. Neiderer.

CARNEY SHOW
FALLS SHORT OF OLD MERIT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — That long-awaited television event finally happened Tuesday night: The housewife picked the pile of clothes washed by brand X instead of the sponsor's washday product. But it was only done in the spirit of fun in the course of a slight, depressingly unoriginal revue hung on the well-explored theme of conformity.

As is usual when a TV show decides to be satiric, the most fertile field proved to be television itself. This was even more noticeable than usual on NBC's "Everybody's Doing It."

Right after Art Carney, Alice Ghostley and the others kidded a number of familiar commercials, the sponsor's real message came up: A bowler knocked a pin wearing a wristwatch into a tub of water. This was just a little bit funnier than the sketches, although designed to sell wrist watches.

In addition to Madison Avenue and TV commercials, the satiric treatment was applied to Loretta Young and her famous entrance, "The Untouchables." TV's desire not to offend and the beat generation. None of this was up to the standards of last season's Carney shows, more's the pity.

FLURRY OVER GLEASON

The imminent return to the channels of the Great Gleason is causing a flurry at CBS. After a dry run of his new panel show earlier this week Jackie stormily announced he wanted bigger names among his game-players.

Originally chosen were Johnny Carson, Pat Carroll, Arthur Treacher and Patricia Cullis—at least two of whom are veterans of the panel show business. Carson recently proved an ingratiating and funny substitute for Tom Poston on "To Tell the Truth," and Pat Carroll in her pre-skinnny days was such an asset to a panel show that the sponsor, maker of a diet aid, brought her back on the show after an initial decision that her decided curves were a poor advertisement.

Maybe the panel proved too funny for Jackie's delicate ego. Anyway, the maestro is planning a busy couple of days. He plans to tape two shows Thursday, another two on Friday—and then insists on a live show for the debut Friday night.

Justice Benjamin Jones said he was convinced "it was the intent of the Convention of 1873 which framed Article VI (in the Constitution) that all appointed public officers (other than judges of courts of record and the superintendent of public instruction) were to be subject to removal at the pleasure of the appointing power."

Justice John C. Bell, who was with the majority in both decisions, wrote the majority opinion in the Johnston ruling. He said all appointed officers whose selection is not provided for in the Constitution, but is provided for by the legislature or by any legislative body "may be removed at the pleasure of the power by which they shall have been appointed . . . unless the legislative body expressly or by clear or necessary implication otherwise provides."

That's why, he said, the governor couldn't remove a member of the Labor Relations Board, or the Turnpike Commission, for that matter.

Chief Justice Charles Alvin Jones said only that Mayor George R. Walter had no power to remove James Hanson, George Hoover and Herbert Beegle from the authority and appoint Warren G. Reitz, Robert E. Parsons and Allen F. Brotemarkle in their place.

Justice Benjamin Jones said he agreed with the majority's opinion but not in the way it reached the decision.

He said he disagrees mainly with the view of legislative intent. He said it "not only ignores prior rulings of this court but is unworkable . . . in the absence of a clear expression of a legislative intent to condition the power of removal, the appointing power has

STATE COURT
HANDS DOWN
TWO RULINGS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has handed down two different rulings concerning the powers an executive officer has in removing appointed members from boards and commissions.

In a 4-3 decision Monday the high tribunal upheld a ruling by the Dauphin County Common Pleas Court that former Gov. George M. Leader did not have the authority to remove a member of the State Labor Relations Board.

At the same time, in another 4-3 ruling, the Supreme Court held that the mayor of Johnstown had legal authority "to dismiss at pleasure and without cause" the members of the city's redevelopment authority before the expiration of their terms.

In the State Labor Relations Board case, which revolved around Clarence P. Bowers, a Reading battery manufacturer, Justices Benjamin Jones, Herbert B. Cohen and Michael M. Musmanno dissented. Jones said the majority opinion that the governor has no constitutional power to remove members of certain state boards will affect some 90 statutory boards and commissions.

Chief Justice Charles Alvin Jones, who wrote the majority opinion in the State Labor Relations Board case, and Justice Curtis Bok, who was with the majority, both dissented along with Justice Cohen in the Johnstown mayor case.

JUDICIAL POWER

Chief Justice Charles Alvin Jones said in the majority opinion in the first case that the governor had no constitutional power to remove any member of the board because it performs judicial functions.

"It is plain enough," said the chief justice, "that in the public interest such board members were not to be made amenable to political influence or discipline in the discharge of their official duties."

He said the Supreme Court of the United States has twice declared that the President lacks power to remove without cause an appointed member of an administrative agency which possesses and exercises judicial powers.

GOES BACK TO 1873

In the dissenting opinion, Justice Benjamin Jones said he was convinced "it was the intent of the Convention of 1873 which framed Article VI (in the Constitution) that all appointed public officers (other than judges of courts of record and the superintendent of public instruction) were to be subject to removal at the pleasure of the appointing power."

Justice John C. Bell, who was with the majority in both decisions, wrote the majority opinion in the Johnston ruling. He said all appointed officers whose selection is not provided for in the Constitution, but is provided for by the legislature or by any legislative body "may be removed at the pleasure of the power by which they shall have been appointed . . . unless the legislative body expressly or by clear or necessary implication otherwise provides."

That's why, he said, the governor couldn't remove a member of the Labor Relations Board, or the Turnpike Commission, for that matter.

DIFFERENT REASONS

Chief Justice Charles Alvin Jones said only that Mayor George R. Walter had no power to remove James Hanson, George Hoover and Herbert Beegle from the authority and appoint Warren G. Reitz, Robert E. Parsons and Allen F. Brotemarkle in their place.

Justice Benjamin Jones said he agreed with the majority's opinion but not in the way it reached the decision.

He said he disagrees mainly with the view of legislative intent. He said it "not only ignores prior rulings of this court but is unworkable . . . in the absence of a clear expression of a legislative intent to condition the power of removal, the appointing power has

DEATHS

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Sgt. Martin Maher, 84, who served as soldier and civilian more than 60 years at the U.S. Military Academy, died Tuesday after a long illness. Maher started his West Point career as a waiter. He joined the Army in 1898, serving at the academy as a swimming instructor and gymnasium custodian and later in other jobs. He was born in Ballyrine, Ireland, and came to the United States when he was 20.

NEW YORK (AP) — Laurence Vale Updegraff, 76, a retired assistant Sunday editor of the New York Times, died Tuesday. He had been a member of the Times staff for nearly 50 years, retiring in 1958. He was born in Grinnell, Iowa.

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — M. William Bray, 71, who served three terms as lieutenant governor of New York in the 1930s, died Tuesday after a long illness. Bray, a former state Democratic chairman, was born in Clinton, N.Y.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Joseph S. Bradley, 69, a combat commander in both World War II and the Korean War, died Tuesday after a long illness. When he retired in 1956 he was chief of the Military Assistance Advisory Group in Germany.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Dr. James A. Estey, 74, professor emeritus of economics at Purdue University, died Monday. He joined the Purdue faculty in 1914, was head of the history department in 1929-33 and retired in 1956. He was born in New Brunswick, Canada.

the right to remove at pleasure."

OTHER DECISIONS

The Bowers case grew out of his appointment to the State Labor Relations Board on June 20, 1955. Leader appointed him to a four-year term, then on Nov. 8, 1957 removed him for alleged political activity. David L. Lawrence, the present governor, reappointed Bowers to the board shortly after he was elected chief executive two years ago. The Dauphin County Court had ruled that Bowers should be paid back salary for the time he was off the board.

Meanwhile, in other decisions Monday, the court:

1. Held that the driver of a car which is towing another is responsible for the safety of both vehicles. Justice Musmanno said that since the law demands the driver of any car be vigilant every moment he is at the wheel, it follows "naturally that the law should be twice as solicitous about the driver who is in effect driving two cars at the same time."

GRANT NEW TRIAL

The decision reversed a Lancaster Common Pleas Court ruling which had thrown out a damage suit brought by survivors of Clayton H. Martin of Manheim. The case was returned to the lower court for a new trial. Martin was killed a year ago when his car, being towed by an auto owned by Sander Chevrolet Co., was struck by another vehicle. The Martin car, being pulled by a chain, had swung into the opposite lane of traffic.

2. Granted a new trial for Harold Johnson, a teen-aged Philadelphia Negro who was convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment in the 1958 slaying of In-ho Oh, a Korean graduate student at the University of Pennsylvania. In the unanimous opinion Justice Bok said overuse of "gruesome colored slides of the bruised deceased" may have inflamed the jury. The decision reversed Philadelphia Quarter Sessions Court.

SET AWARD ASIDE

3. Ruled that Allegheny County could not be sued by a property owner for damages because commercial aircraft landing and taking off from the Greater Pittsburgh Airport fly low over his home.

Chief Justice Jones, in a unanimous opinion, set aside the award of $12,690 in damages to Thomas N. Griggs who brought suit against the county in 1958. Griggs thought the amount was insufficient and appealed. He said the low-flying aircraft interfered with the use and enjoyment of his land and thus represented a taking of part of his property.

Chief Justice Jones said that any relief, if collectible, must come from the operators of the aircraft which fly over his land.

Schools To Get
What's Necessary

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence says he will take whatever steps he feels are necessary to implement recommendations of his Committee on Education.

The governor indicated at his news conference Tuesday his included possible new taxes to relieve the growing problem of school finances.

In response to a question as to whether he would ask the legislature for new taxes to foot the education bill, Lawrence replied:

"We will propose whatever we feel is necessary. We will be very happy to sit down with the legislative leaders first and try to agree on a program. If we cannot agree, I think it is my duty to come forward with a program, just as well as I think it is their duty to adopt a program."

CONFUSION IN TOWN AFTER EMBEZZLEMENT

SHELDON, Iowa (AP) — The economy of this small town in northwest Iowa was in a state of confusion today as the result of a $2-million embezzlement from the Sheldon National Bank.

There were payrolls to be met, outstanding checks that seemed sure to encounter trouble, citizens without funds and local business records in financial disarray.

In jail, beyond the reach of persons seeking public answers to the questions of how and why it all happened, was Burnice Geiger, 58, daughter of the bank president.

ADMITTED EMBEZZLEMENT

The U.S. district attorney's office in Sioux City said Mrs. Geiger — a director and assistant cashier of the bank — admitted the embezzlement. A prominent citizen, she was known for her charitable works.

Her father, W. P. Iverson, 83, president of the bank for 45 years, could only say: "I'm all choked up."

CLOSED FOR LIQUIDATION

The bank was closed for liquidation by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. after a routine audit by federal bank examiners turned up the shortage Monday night.

Officials of the FDIC were checking the records of deposits which were insured up to $10,000 each. The bank's last statement on Dec. 31 listed total assets at $1,995,000. The embezzlements were estimated at $2,126,859.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru today confirmed newspaper reports that some junior government employees had been caught spying for foreign embassies in New Delhi but said secrets involved were "of no great importance."

An official announcement indicated the plane got away.

KENNEDY, RUSK
TO SEEK DELAY
ON BIG ISSUES

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The incoming Kennedy administration needs a foreign policy breathing spell of several months after inauguration to get its policies in shape for major negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Well-informed diplomats believe President-elect John F. Kennedy and his secretary of state-designate, Dean Rusk, will seek to avoid any important new foreign commitments or proposals until next spring or summer.

Meantime Kennedy and Rusk will have to deal with crises as they arise. The most urgent of these at present is the civil war in Laos where both the United States and the Soviet Union are involved through aid to the contending factions.

INTENSIVE REVIEW

The breathing spell, as the diplomats see it, will be a period of intensive policy review in Washington and probably top-level Allied consultation. There is some speculation that after a period of months Kennedy might be interested in arranging a completely informal, brief, talk with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Certainly, it is believed here, Kennedy would want to meet with Allied leaders briefly and informally before any get-together with Khrushchev. There also is speculation that perhaps in the spring he would undertake a flying visit to Europe to see such men as British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

MAY RECALL THOMPSON

Kennedy has been in frequent touch with Rusk, whose headquarters are in the State Department. Their conferences are understood to have been primarily concerned with developments in Laos, Cuba, and other trouble spots and with the selection of chief officials for the State Department.

One early move which the experts consider probable is the recall from Moscow of Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson for consultation. Kennedy is sure to be under steady pressure from Khrushchev to say whether he would eventually be willing to have a summit conference.

Today's Talk

THE "A" WORD

The A-word in the alphabet of consideration, I would say is—please!

It is the great "smoother" word of the entire English language. One feels like responding at once to its sound.

I am not surprised that the great telephone companies throughout the land have instructed their operators always to say — "Number — PLEASE!"

But if this little word would be the Alpha of the alphabet of consideration, then I am sure that "Thank you" must be the Omega of this alphabet.

So learn them both. "Please," when you desire something—and "Thank you," when you have received.

Our everyday lives are jeweled with the simpler courtesies. They are what make life worth the living. In appreciation are we wrapped and made warm!

What a pair of twin words—Please—Thank you!

In that wonderful play "Abraham Lincoln," that I saw years ago I still remember that this great man in the representation was made to use these words constantly—as though it were not second nature, but first nature. To the most mediocre person or servant did he address them.

I like to trade in the department store where the sales gentleman, or lady, always remembers to say "Thank you" after a sale.

I like to do service—no matter what—when I hear that little word "Please" creep up to me at the start.

Life isn't so very long at the longest. The work of the busiest will some time end. So please remember to say "Please"—and please don't forget to say "Thank you."

Why not? Thank you for reading this Talk!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Beauty Of Remembering"

THE WAR OF PEACE

I am for war. The war that drives injustice from the haunts of men; The war that makes for happier lives.

That helps the fallen up again; The strife to make a better way Than ever men had trod before, To build a land where children play

And neither guns nor cannons roar.

I am for war. The war that frees

The baby slaves of Monster Greed;

The war that battles with disease,

And has real service for a creed;

The war of science and of art;

Against the battlements of wrong,

The war of brain and brawn and heart

To equalize the weak and strong.

I am for war. The war to make

This earth a joyous place for all;

To have men rather given than take,

To have them rise and never fall,

I'm for the war that betters life,

That seeks all human wrongs to cease,

The bloodless and constructive strife

That is the crowning joy of peace.

SAYS PROFIT IS ONLY 6 CENTS PER TELEPHONE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania says its profits, called excessive by the Public Utility Commission, amount to less than six cents a month per telephone.

Bernard G. Segal, lawyer for Bell, told the PUC during a hearing Tuesday that a decrease in consumer rates would be unjust.

"If the company cannot earn a return which will enable it to compete successfully in the market for new investment funds, the public will be the serious loser," he said.

Segal said the company has not raised its rates since 1956, when the PUC set 5.9 per cent as a fair rate of return.

The commission charges now that Bell earns a profit of 6.2 per cent, or $2,500,000 annually above the approved return.

The company has been asked to show cause why it should not be ordered to reduce its rates. It has refused to reduce them voluntarily.

Pittsburgh Solicitor David Stahl told the PUC, "We are interested in making certain that any earnings of the Bell Telephone Co. that exceed a proper allowance for operating expenses, plus a fair profit, should be reflected in lower rates to telephone subscribers."

SAY LUMUMBA BEATEN BADLY BY POLICEMEN

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Katanga government today confirmed that deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba is now imprisoned in Katanga. He was brought here, a communique said, at the request of President Joseph Kasavubu of the Congo.

Officials of the Belgian air line, Sabena, had reported earlier that Lumumba was flown to Elisabethville Tuesday under close guard and in handcuffs. He had been held previously at the military camp of Thysville, 80 miles southwest of Leopoldville, the Congo capital.

Elisabethville is the capital of one of Lumumba's arch enemies, Provincial President Moise Tshombe, who defied Lumumba's authority as premier and declared his province independent of the "SEIKENING" government.

Swedish U.N. troops on guard at Elisabethville airport when Lumumba arrived said he and two other prisoners with him got "a terrific beating" from Katanga police at the airport. The other two prisoners were the youth minister in Lumumba's cabinet, Maurice Mpolo, and the vice president of the Congo Senate, Joseph Okito.

"It was sickening," one of the soldiers said. "I had to turn away," said an airport official. "It was too much for me to watch."

Lumumba and his companions reportedly groaned while the assault was taking place but did not protest or ask for mercy. The ex-premier was reported severely bruised.

WILL CHARGE FATHER FOR 12 FAMILY DEATHS

BEDFORD, Que. (AP)—Crown prosecutor Claude Noisieux said he will charge Abel Vosburgh, 63, with murder today in the death of his wife and 11 children, whose bodies were found in their burned shanty home Dec. 29.

A coroner's jury Tuesday night found Vosburgh, sole survivor of the fire, criminally responsible. As a crowd of 300 persons milled around outside the hearing room, Vosburgh denied he caused the fire and kept his family from escaping.

WAS UNEMPLOYED

Vosburgh, an unemployed laborer, testified the flames awoke him and that he called to his wife, whom police said was dead before the fire started. Vosburgh said he then ran to a water pump outside their home in the village of Noyon, 35 miles south of Montreal.

MAMIE TO BE THE YOUNGEST EX-1ST LADY

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—"The general and I feel like children just released from school," wrote the First Lady shortly before her husband stepped out of office to retire to their country home.

That was 164 years ago, and the President's wife was Martha Washington.

But you can almost hear Mamie Eisenhower saying it, as she and the general prepare to leave Washington for their 500-acre farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

A red hot shooting, fast breaking Waynesboro High School basketball squad handed the Gettysburg High Warriors a jolt here Tuesday evening by racing away to a 72-54 decision in a South Penn League game.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Indians to give them an overall 8-6 record. The loss was the third in the last four tilts for Gettysburg to leave them with a 6-3 log.

Don Eakle, who wound up with 31 points including 11 for 11 from the foul line, registered 12 points in the first period as Waynesboro got off to a 21-14 lead. Mark Eckert, Rog Eckert, Howie Miller and Greg Maitland each landed a goal for the Warriors with Eckert adding three fouls, Eckert one and Don Waddell a pair.

THRILLING PERIOD

Russ Zuck, 6-4, opened the second period with a foul for Waynesboro and then the Warriors pulled up even at 22-22 on a long shot by Eckert, a fast break lay-up by Miller followed by his shot from the side and a pair of fouls by Waddell. It was nip and tuck the remainder of the quarter with the score deadlocked at 24-24, 26-26, 28-28 and 30-30. Dick Loy then landed two fouls for Waynesboro and Gettysburg got its final lead on a foul by Miller and a goal by Dick Noel to make it 33-32 with less than a minute remaining in the half. A lay-up by Loy and two fouls by Jeff Hovis sent the Indians ahead 36-33 at half time and they were never headed.

WARRIORS COLLAPSE

With Hovis landing some fine outside shots and Eakle scoring unmolested time and again on easy lay-ups following fast breaks, Waynesboro led the game in the third period by building up a 54-40 lead. Gettysburg was limited to a goal and two fouls by Eckert and a trio of points by Miller, Eckert, who was yanked in the second period because of four personal fouls and did not return until midway in the third frame, wound up with 21 points to lead the Warriors.

A run of nine straight points early in the last quarter made the score 65-44 midway in the period after which Coach George Forney poured his reserves into action. Coach George Gottshall of Waynesboro kept his varsity in action practically the entire way, using but two subs.

Zuck and Vinson controlled the boards fairly well throughout for the Indians with Eakle and Hovis

Palmer Takes Blame For Groat's Wrist

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, last year's golfing king, who's getting ready for Thursday's opening round of the annual Crosby pro-amateur tournament, talked about baseball.

The Ligonier, Pa., golfer, an avid fan of the world champion Pirates, said that he's partly to blame for Pirate shortstop Dick Groat's wrist fracture in last season's stretch pennant drive.

Groat and Palmer, good friends, are paired for this $50,000 golf classic. Palmer said that before the Milwaukee game in which Groat was injured by a pitch by Lew Burdette he, Palmer, went in to see Groat and tell him to have a real good night.

"Just before Dick got hit by that pitch, he paused and looked over to me and some other friends from Pittsburgh," Palmer said. "I guess you'd say he 'eye-waved' us. The next thing you know, Burdette fired, Dick wasn't ready to pick up the ball and I heard the ball hit bone.

"I was sick, just sick," Palmer added.

PENNSYLVANIA READIES FOR INAUGURATION

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of Pennsylvanians, including Gov. David L. Lawrence, are expected to be on hand Friday for the inauguration of President-elect Kennedy.

The bulk of the Pennsylvanians are due to arrive early Friday on special trains from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Lawrence is expected to attend a reception for governors at the Sheraton Park Hotel Thursday afternoon.

WANT GOOD WEATHER

The governor and his retinue are hoping for better weather conditions than occurred when Lawrence was sworn in as Pennsylvania's chief executive two years ago. On that cold, slushy day, the ceremony had to be moved inside the State Farm Show Building. Keystone State leaders at that time decided never again to hold the ceremony outdoors on the state Capitol steps.

Following Kennedy's inaugural speech, Lawrence will head the Pennsylvania division in the giant parade that will head from the Capitol to the White House.

The Keystone State group will march fourth among the states. First comes Massachusetts, Kennedy's home state; then Texas, home of Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson, followed by the marchers from Delaware, first state to ratify the Constitution, in 1789.

WANTED FARM UNITS

Due to the length of the parade at President Eisenhower's second inauguration, efforts have been made to hold it down this time.

Each state is allowed four units — its governor and retinue; a band, a marching unit and a float.

Selected as Pennsylvania's band has been the famed Hegeman String Band of Philadelphia, perennial feature in the Quaker City's historic New Year's Day Mummers' Parade.

STATE POLICE TO MARCH

The marching unit will be the joined forces of the Pennsylvania mounted state police and those of the Philadelphia police force.

For a time it was thought that the Keystone State would not have a float in the procession. However, John S. Rice, Democratic state chairman, disclosed that the Democratic National Committee will spot one of its two floats in the Pennsylvania division.

Rice said that in view of this offer from the national committee and the fact that the Hegeman String Band will be an unusual one for Washington, the state had decided not to send a float of its own.

M'NAMARA IS IN TROUBLE WITH UNION

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert S. McNamara is choosing his own Defense Department team—but in doing so the secretary-designate has gotten himself and the incoming administration in a jam with leaders of organized labor.

McNamara, 44, former Ford Motor Co. president, turned down a union chief reportedly recommended for a key defense post by President-elect John F. Kennedy himself.

It is understood, moreover, that McNamara, a Republican, rejected several other persons outside of labor ranks whose names were sent to him for appointment to important posts in his department.

REJECTS J. D. KEENAN

Joseph D. Keenan, secretary of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and an AFL-CIO vice president, is the labor man McNamara turned down.

Keenan, who had built up a World War II reputation as a successful labor trouble shooter, was tagged to become the assistant defense secretary for manpower.

A week ago in New York, Kennedy had to call in Keenan, who had accompanied him on his campaign, to convey the bad news.

"I was told McNamara is picking his own team and I don't fit," Keenan said.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, was hopping mad. Keenan is highly regarded by his colleagues.

WANTED UNION MAN

Meany said Keenan's name was suggested because Kennedy wanted a union official placed in a high defense post.

Last Friday morning, McNamara, having gotten wind of the ruckus he had caused, visited Meany's office and came away thinking things had been smoothed over.

They hadn't been because Meany, when asked about the situation Monday, said "McNamara's visit was a gratuitous insult."

McNamara declined comment on the Keenan rejection. But he did say he wanted it known that "I am not anti-labor."

Kennedy after telling Keenan he couldn't name him to the Defense Department offered an appointment, instead, as ambassador to New Zealand. Keenan turned down that offer.

The labor official said he never wanted a political job anyway, and as for the fuss, "it's all in the game, I guess."

HOLD HEARING ON DEPRESSED AREAS ISSUE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate banking subcommittee begins public hearings today on the $389.5 million depressed areas bill strongly backed by President-elect John F. Kennedy.

The hearings, opening two days before Kennedy's inauguration, will give Congress a running start on a bill its sponsors hope will be the first major legislative item to reach the new president's desk.

Congressional witnesses are on the list for today. On Thursday the subcommittee plans to call some of the governors who are here for the inaugural ceremonies.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., chief sponsor of the measure and chairman of the subcommittee, said that the hearings would not be prolonged because congressional committees have compiled much testimony on the subject in recent years.

President Eisenhower killed depressed areas bills with vetoes in 1958 and 1960.

Kennedy made these a major issue in the presidential campaign last fall, particularly in such states as Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

43 CO-SPONSORS

The Douglas bill has 43 co-sponsors including four Republicans. Its eventual Senate passage seems assured. The House, however, has cut down the amount of funds in these Senate bills in the past.

The measure contains federal loan and grant funds designed to help areas of chronic unemployment attract new industries. The aid would go to distressed rural sections as well as to cities.

The money could be used to build plants for new industries and also public facilities such as water systems needed to service the industries.

Kennedy's Cabinet Is Most Distinguished By Diversity

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy's Cabinet is distinguished by its diversity.

It contains wealthy men and those of humble origin. It has seven Protestants, two Jews and one Catholic, Kennedy's brother. It is drawn from the world of business, of scholarship and of government.

Some of the Cabinet members are longtime political associates of the president-elect. Others he knew only by reputation.

PAY CUT FOR SOME

All of them will make $25,000 a year as Cabinet officers; for some it is quite a pay cut.

Here are sketches of the 10 men in the Kennedy Cabinet:

Secretary of State—Dean Rusk, 51, was president of the Rockefeller Foundation. Born on a farm in Georgia's Cherokee County, he won a Phi Beta Kappa key at Davidson College, then a Rhodes scholarship, became dean of faculty at Mills College at 25. Entered the State Department after World War II, rose to assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, was a chief architect of U.S. Far Eastern policy. Joined Rockefeller Foundation in 1952. Married, three children. Presbyterian.

SOME REPUBLICANS

Secretary of Treasury—Douglas Dillon, 51, a wealthy man who believes in hard work. A Republican, moved over to Kennedy Cabinet from position as undersecretary of state for President Eisenhower. Banking family background, was chairman of the board of Dillon, Read & Co., Wall Street bankers, while still in his 30s. Has always advocated large-scale foreign economic aid. He was ambassador to France early in the Eisenhower administration, and moved up in the State Department to become a top policy maker. He is an accomplished linguist, ardent art lover and gourmet, owns one of the finest vineyards in France. Married, two children. Episcopalian.

Secretary of Defense—Robert S. McNamara, 44, who had become president of the Ford Motor Co. just a month before he was tapped by Kennedy. By divesting himself of his holdings to take the Cabinet post, he lost an estimated $3 million, says personal considerations must be subordinated to public service. Joined Ford in 1946 after pioneering statistical controls for the Air Force. Married, three children. Republican. Presbyterian.

ONLY CATHOLIC

Attorney General — Robert F. Kennedy, 35, unique in being the first brother of a president named to his Cabinet. Managed the president-elect's campaign with tireless fervor. Was reported reluctant to accept the post because it might bring criticism on his brother. Made a name for himself as chief counsel of the Senate rackety investigating committee, which probed wrongdoing in labor unions and other matters. Says he is divorcing himself from politics in his new job. Married, seven children. Catholic.

BENSON CRITIC

Secretary of Agriculture — Orville L. Freeman, 42, former governor of Minnesota. He has been one of the most articulate critics of Eisenhower's agricultural chief, Ezra Taft Benson. Got into politics as secretary to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey when Humphrey was mayor of Minneapolis. As a Marine in World War II, his jaw was scarred by a Japanese bullet in the Pacific; he took special exercises to overcome a resulting partial paralysis of the face. Won highest honors at University of Minnesota Law School. Married, two children. Lutheran.

Secretary of Commerce—Luther H. Hodges, 62, former governor of North Carolina. A tenant farmer's son, he became a wealthy textile executive. Entered public service in his 50s, served in Germany and as a consultant to the State Department. He was elected lieutenant governor of his state in 1952, succeeded to governorship upon the death of his predecessor. In six years as governor he pushed a campaign to attract industry to the state. Married, two children. Methodist.

Secretary of Labor—Arthur J. Goldberg, 52, general counsel for the United Steelworkers Union. A top labor lawyer for 25 years, he also was special counsel for the AFL-CIO, played a key role in ending the deadlocked 1960 steel strike last year. As a lawyer, Goldberg has opposed some of the laws he now is called upon to administer. He promises to do it fairly, has severed all connections with labor unions. Known among lawyers as a brilliant advocate. Married, two children. Jewish.

FORMER GOVERNOR

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare — Abraham A. Ribicoff, 50, former governor of Connecticut. Son of a factory hand and peddler, worked his way through University of Chicago Law School with honors. Began political career in 1938, served two terms in Congress, suffered his only defeat when he ran for the Senate in 1952. Twice elected governor, he instituted a campaign to suspend licenses of highway speeders to cut accidents; it drew nationwide attention. Was an early backer of Kennedy. Married, two children. Jewish.

Postmaster General — J. Edgar Day, 46, a Los Angeles insurance executive, was associated with Adlai E. Stevenson when Stevenson was governor of Illinois. His work in cleaning up insurance rackets there brought him to the attention of the President.

Getting Set For Inaugural

Guenther Kilsheimer, manager of Washington, D. C., firm constructing several floats for January 20 big inaugural parade, poses in nation's capital Saturday with a reproduction of the official inaugural medallion. It bears a profile of President-elect John F. Kennedy. Each float in the parade will be decorated with one of the signs as it moves down the route from the U.S. Capitol building to the White House.

"FORD TIMES" WILL PUBLISH C. W. ARTICLES

"Ford Times," read each month by more than 5,000,000 people who enjoy touring America, will devote most of its March, April and May issues to articles on the Civil War Centennial.

The magazine is sponsored by Ford dealers and is distributed to car owners throughout the United States. The special issues were planned to increase national interest in the centennial events.

As a car owner's magazine, "Ford Times" will follow the centennial observances from the point of view of those who drive through the South to observe it.

To spur travel to historic Civil War sites, Ford dealers in the southern states will distribute thousands of additional copies of "Ford Times" and will have four-color maps of famous battle-ground areas available.

FINE ILLUSTRATIONS

Ford dealers in the South also will give illustrated talks to civic groups on historic areas which have appeal for tourists.

The centennial issues, planned for more than a year, are illustrated for the most part with original paintings and color photographs.

The March issue, for example, has articles on Fort Sumter— "First Shot and the Longest Siege"; Charleston—a blend of azaleas, armament, she-crab soup and knights with lances; "Remembered Terrains"—a background story on the great war, modern muzzle-loaders; "Sounds in the Stillness"—a nostalgic revisiting of battleground sites and a list of events to see during the first centennial year.

Amplified in all three centennial issues will be these tourist attractions — re-enactments of Civil War battles, colorful pageants based on Civil War history and many tours of ante-bellum homes in the south.

"FAVORITE RECIPES"

In addition to articles directly connected with Civil War observances, there will be articles appealing to tourists in the south, including one in the March issue on interesting things to buy along the southern roadsides.

The popular "Favorite Recipes of Famous Restaurants" feature in the "Ford Times" will be devoted to southern restaurants and recipes in all three special issues of the magazine.

The commemorative section of the March issue is based on observances during the first year of the Civil War Centennial planned under the guidance of the Civil War Centennial Commission, Washington, D. C., with the aid of 43 state Civil War commissions and many historical groups.
